

Internship Program at the Department of “Russian History and Culture”

Head of the department: Prof. Galina Lobacheva

e-mail: lgv@sstu.ru

Supervisor: Associate Professor, candidate of history Ivan Bulatov.

Internship – Russian History and Culture

Duration: 2 months

The purpose of the internship is to acquire students with teaching skills in the subjects "Russian History" or "Russian History of culture" and to deepen their knowledge in these disciplines, to improve pedagogical skills of foreign teachers who specialize in Russian Culture & History

The internship is divided into two periods. During the first month, the trainee develops an author's course in English for the chosen discipline. At the second stage of the internship, the student gives lectures and conducts practical classes. The head of the internship program helps the trainee both in developing the author's course and in analyzing the quality of lectures and practices, points out the strengths and weaknesses of his work, and helps with methodological and scientific information.
