

Department Psychology and Applied Sociology

Internship: Psychological counseling and psychodiagnostics of personality

Duration of the program is 3 months.

Supervisor: As. Prof. Natalia Arinushkina, head of the lab

e-mail: Arinoushkina@yandex.ru

The purpose of the program: to form a system of basic theoretical and instrumental competencies for students of additional education in the field of counseling psychology and psychodiagnostics. To achieve this goal, the following tasks are implemented: to build an orientation in the subject and boundaries of counseling psychology and psychodiagnostics, including knowledge of the main domestic and foreign theoretical approaches and areas of practice; get an idea of the basic principles of building a consulting practice, correction and diagnostics practices, and the specifics of working with clients of different age groups.